FINANCE DEPARTMENT.

MEMORIAL RULES

Fort St. George, April 12, 1921.

The following Memorial Rules are published for general information:—

A.

RULES GOVERNING THE SUBMISSION OF MEMORIALS AND OTHER PAPERS OF THE SAME CLASS TO HIS MAJESTY THE KING, EMPEROR OF INDIA, OR TO THE RIGHT HONOURABLE THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA.

(N.B.—These rules do not in any way affect or supersede orders issued on the same subject by the Military authorities for the guidance of the army.)

I. No memorial will be received or attended to unless forwarded as hereinafter prescribed.

II. Every memorial to His Majesty or to the Secretary of State for India should contain all material statements and arguments relied upon by the memorialist and be complete in itself; and it should be accompanied by a letter requesting its transmission to the authority to which it is addressed.

III. Every memorial to His Majesty or to the Secretary of State for India should be presented through the Local Government having jurisdiction in respect of the subject-matter of the memorial. In cases where the Local Government is in a position to deal with the subject-matter of the memorial, it should be presented through the Local Government within whose jurisdiction the memorialist is or has last been residing or employed or, if there is no Local Government answering to these descriptions, then through the Government of India.

The Railway Board is regarded as the Local Government in respect of memorials from persons connected with it.

IV. Every memorial to His Majesty or to the Secretary of State for India presented through the Government of Madras, Bombay or Bengal should be forwarded direct by the Local Government, with a full statement of facts and an expression of opinion, except in the case of a memorial which—

(a) relates to—

(i) any rule or standing order of the Government of India; or

(ii) any Legislative Proceedings of the Governor-General in Council or an Act to which the Governor-General has assented; or

(iii) a case which has been previously under the consideration of the Government of India whether on appeal or otherwise; or

(b) if granted, would cause expenditure for which the Imperial and not the Local Government would be primarily responsible; or

(c) contains a prayer for the exercise of the Royal prerogative of pardon.

Every such memorial should be forwarded with a covering letter containing a full statement of facts and an expression of opinion to the Government of India in the proper department for transmission to the Secretary of State for India.

Rule 1.—If the memorial contains an application for the suspension or resumption of a pension under Chapter XXIX of the Civil Government, 1901 (Act V of 1901), of which the Local Government is not empowered to dispose on its own responsibility under the orders contained in rule VII in paragraph 1 of the Home Department letter No. 1124-37, dated the 11th September 1916, it should be forwarded to the Government of India and not to the Secretary of State for India.

9. Every memorial to His Majesty or to the Secretary of State for India presented through a Local Government, other than the Government of Madras, Bombay or Bengal, should be forwarded by the Local Government, with a full statement of facts and an expression of opinion, to the Government of India in the proper department for transmission to the authority addressed.*

VI. Every memorial to His Majesty or to the Secretary of State for India from a person who has been employed in the army should, if it relates to a military subject, be forwarded through the Army, Divisional or Independent Brigade Commander under whose jurisdiction the memorialist has served. The Army, Divisional or Independent Brigade Commander will forward it, with a full statement of facts and an expression of opinion to the Government of India in the Army Department for transmission to the authority addressed.†

VII. A memorial may be transmitted either in manuscript or in print, but must, with all accompanying documents, be properly authenticated by the signature of the memorialist on each sheet, and must conclude with a specific prayer.

VIII. Memorials, together with their accompanying documents, should be in English. If the accompanying documents must necessarily be forwarded in the vernacular, an English translation should be appended, which should be attested by the signature of the memorialist.

IX. It will be well for the memorialist when in attendance at the Secretariat, and if they are bound to be absent or unable, to leave the letter in writing on the memorial.

X. It is not necessary that memorials should be forwarded in duplicate or triplicate. The originals will invariably be transmitted to England, a copy being made and retained by the Government of India, if necessary, for record.

XI. As a general rule, the transmission to England of a memorial duly forwarded through the proper channel should not be delayed by the transmitting Government in India, beyond a month after the receipt of the memorial.

XII. The Government in India are vested with discretionary power to withhold the transmission of memorials addressed to His Majesty or to the Secretary of State for India in the following cases:—

(1) When a memorial is illegible or unintelligible.

(2) When a memorial contains disrespectful or improper language.

(3) When a second memorial is presented after a decision has already been given by the authority to which it is addressed, and when no new facts or circumstances are adduced which afford grounds for a reconsideration of the case. A memorial addressed to His Majesty by a person whose appeal to the Secretary of State for India has already been rejected, shall be held to be a second memorial to the same authority, and shall not be transmitted.

(4) When a memorial is a mere application for relief, pecuniary or other, which is presented by a person manifestly possessing no claim or advancing a claim of an obviously unbecomingly character, or is so related that its consideration is clearly impossible.

(5) When a memorial is an application for employment under one of the Government in India from a person not in the service of the Government, or is a request for exemption from the payment of any law or rule governing the qualifications to be possessed by persons in the service of Government, or by persons occupying any position or employment.

(6) When a memorial is an appeal against the discharge of a person appointed in India on probation, if his discharge was ordered before the termination of his probation.

(7) When a memorial is a mere appeal from a judicial decision.

Note.—If the memorial is a preliminary application for the suspension or resumption of a pension under Chapter XXIX of the Civil Government, 1901 (Act V of 1901), or contains such an application, it must be transmitted unless it falls under rule 12, in which the members of what the Local Government or the Government of India are empowered to dispose on their own responsibility under the orders contained in rule VI of the Home Department letter No. 1124-37, dated the 11th September 1916.

* Appeal by private persons from the Secretary of Government or Chief Commissioners, &c., in the Home Department, to the Government of India in Council. An appeal to the Secretary of State will be only in the event of an appeal to the Government of India in Council having been rejected.

† Appeal by individuals from the Secretary of the Army, Divisional or Independent Brigade Commander in, to the Local Government to the Government of India in Council and thence to the Secretary of State.

‡ It is frequently suggested that the disposal of memorial petitions presented to the Government of India is delayed owing to the fact that they are accompanied by English translations, and as Local Governments will not undertake to do so, it is suggested that the Government of India should be empowered to require that such translations be made by a Local Government and transmitted to the Government of India may actually be accompanied by an English translation.

§ 1. It should, however, be clearly understood that it is not the intention of the Government in Council that any petition presented for transmission to the Government of India or the Secretary of State should be refused by reason of its being in the vernacular or being in a translation. It is the general practice of the Secretariat in not being English, and must come to the notice of an English person or officer; and it is not unduly late in a country like India the language of petition should be vernacular. But as the language of India are many and varied, it is inevitable that any vernacular petition or memorial forwarded to express a petition by a person in a Local Government should be accompanied by an English translation.—Home Department No. 1124-37-38 (17th April 1916).

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The first general Indian Act regulating the use of electrical energy was passed in 1924 (Act III of 1924), and after three years' experience of its working it was replaced by the Indian Electricity

Act of 1910 (Act IX of 1910). The measure has on the whole proved satisfactory; but in some parts the provisions of the act of electricity supplied both by municipalities and by public utility companies has brought out some defects in details which it is now sought to rectify. In the case of the present amending Bill to correct provisions that have proved disappointing, in those which would their money in electrical undertakings, while the legitimate interests of the consumer have been safeguarded. These questions were fully discussed at several sittings of the select committee of the House of Government. Secondly, the views of the applicants have been brought to the notice of Government from time to time. A study of the amendments in which were considered necessary was made in all Local Governments and Administrations, as well as to associations representing the public. The results received show that the proposed amendments have been to the whole well received. The principles and provisions have been carefully considered and useful additions and modifications have consequently been incorporated in the Bill.

3. The amendments in the Bill are mostly in matters of detail, as shown in the Notes on Clauses which follow, and a brief summary only of the more important amendments is given below:

- (1) Sections 20, 24, 29 and 43 have been amended to meet the difficulties encountered by business in carrying out their obligations to supply all consumers when a few consumers either evade payment of their bills owing to the defective working of the Act, or obtain their supply by dishonest means.
- (2) Section 31 receives an addition enabling by-laws, now often issued by business in accordance with long-standing custom but without legal sanction, to be regularly made with the previous approval of Government.
- (3) Section 33, dealing with methods of charging, has had the substantive part of clause X of the Schedule added to it, so that it is not of place in a Schedule that is capable of modification in any particular clause.
- (4) A new sub-section has been added to section 37, so Government consider that their own authorities in connection with electricity should be bound by the same rules for the protection of life and property as govern other undertakings.
- (5) A change is made in the Division of responsibilities, by substituting the Local Government for the Government-General in Clause 33.
- (6) Clause VI, VII and VIII of the Schedule have been amended, in the interests of the consumer, by broadening the limits in which a supply of electrical energy may be regulated.

4. All the amendments proposed in the Bill are explained in the Notes on Clauses which follow.

15th February 1921.

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

Clause 1.—There is some uncertainty at present, as to what exactly constitutes a "service line." The amendment makes clear that a service line comprises a line which serves one consumer only, or a group of consumers on the same premises or on adjoining premises served by a single line.

Clause 2.—This alteration has been introduced at the request of the military authorities who are responsible for questions of supply in emergencies.

Clause 3.—It is considered expedient to include amended Section 22 from the provisions of sub-section (2) of section 11, so that lines are now liable to afford telegraph lines from the registered service lines. This words qualifying "service line" in sub-sections (2) and (3) of section 17 are being deleted as none of the latter definition of service line given in clause 3 of the Bill.

Clause 4.—The modification is intended to allow of the clearance of trees, etc., or other obstructions which are likely to interrupt or interfere with the working of the supply of any service line. There is both personal danger to the public and a risk of the supply being cut off when obstructions interfere on service lines, more especially in the case of long transmission lines. An explanation has been added to section 15 to indicate what the word "line" signifies.

Clause 5.—The object of this addition is to take power to prescribe in the rules the precise point where the supply of energy by the Revenue begins.

Clause 6.—The insertion of the word "customer" in clause (5) of sub-section (5) of section 12 amounts to an amendment in the Act of 1910 and brings that clause into line with clause (4). A new sub-section (2) has been inserted because it is considered desirable that the Revenue should have power to cut off the supply of current to a consumer who unlawfully permits the entry of excluded persons to his premises to make the meter and carry on their necessary duties. A similar provision already exists in clause VI of the Bill.

Clause 7.—The object of the new sub-section (2) in section 21 is to permit licensees to issue by-law make the previous approval of the Local Government. At present conditions of supply, amounting practically to by-laws, are issued without any such sanction in accordance with long-standing custom, and these by-laws are not always in accordance with the law. The date to be entered in the previous will be approximately the date on which licensees may be deemed to have had notice of the amendment being proposed.

New sub-section (3) gives the Local Government power to amend what is now mentioned, if circumstances alter and make this desirable.

Clause 8.—It is considered necessary that consumers should have the right to demand to be charged by the methods laid down in sub-clauses (a) or (b). It is further desirable that a licensee should be authorized to take into account "load factor" when determining his system of charges. The term "load factor" is well understood in its various technical applications, and it is, therefore, not considered necessary to define it.

Clause 9.—There are various charges connected with the supply of current which are due from a consumer to the licensee other than those for the actual current consumed. It is considered that the proposed alteration in sub-section (2) of section 33 will make the original intention of the Act of 1910 clear. The addition of the power to sub-section (2) is proposed, as at present consumers, by appealing to the Electric Inspector, obtain an unconscionably long period of time in which to pay their bills, by the end of which their liabilities may be considerable. Commercial opinion considers that the aim is dispute and any further amends as they accrue should be deposited as a guarantee of good faith. Should the licensee fail to receive payment, the general body of citizens are the ultimate sufferers.

Clause 11.—The amendment is proposed as a new clause (as, for example, where premises have already been let in these for the first time) in which there has been no previous supply and it is assumed that in such cases the Electric Inspector should be left to settle the matter on the basis of equity. The added proviso is intended to remedy cases of fraud in which, when a consumer, without informing the licensee, refers the question of the necessity of his meter to the Electric Inspector for decision.

Clause 12.—The object of the addition is to prevent cases where payment is withheld, while it is desirable in the two public houses.

Clause 13.—It is proposed to omit the last proviso under sub-section (2) of section 22 as neither the expense nor the delay involved in obtaining a license would arise, in actual fact, partly action under it and it is considered undesirable to fetter the discretion of Local Governments in the matter.

Clause 14.—The alteration is due to the replacement of the Indian Factories Act, 1913, by the Act of 1911. The addition is proposed with the object of bringing within the scope of this section certain industrial concerns, such as tea, coffee and rubber estates which are not at present "factories" within the meaning of the Indian Factories Act, 1911, but in which electrical installations are in operation.

Clause 15.—It is considered that the authority to whom appeals should be referred and the manner in which such appeals should be made, should be regulated by general or special directions of the Local Governments.

Clause 16.—The addition is proposed with the object of enabling commercial and other concerns to be more directly represented on the Advisory Board when necessary, the Local Government having given full consideration to the requisition. The amendment is consequential on the addition referred to above.

Clause 17.—This addition is proposed as it has been held that an appeal to the Local Government against the decision of its Electric Inspector is, in practice, ineffective as the Electric Inspector is in a sense the officer of the Local Government in the matter. It is considered that, in important cases, Local Governments will be well advised to refer the matters in dispute to an Advisory Board.

Clause 18.—The first addition is consequential on other amendments proposed. The second addition is proposed as it is considered desirable to make the meter under section 27 (5) or (4) reading as the Crown.

Clause 19.—This change throws the responsibility for the theft of energy on to the "Consumer" as defined in section 2 (7). At present it is necessary, but generally impossible, to prove the actual act of who made the illegal connection; it is usually only the agent of the offending consumer, who shows himself by getting his bills fraudulently reduced, to the detriment of the honest consumer.

Clause 20.—These modifications are proposed as the present provision have been found inadequate and deficient. A case of No. 504, the requirement that no impost be by the existing section 41, may be readily paid where entry of a much larger quantity which is obtained by irregular means. The provision, as it is at present, is too narrow; the added line is a matter for the Clerk.

Clause 21.—This change is proposed in accordance with the spirit of the recommendations contained in paragraph 112 of the Report on Indian Constitutional Reforms.

Clause 22.—This alteration is proposed as it is anticipated that the administration of the Indian Electricity Act, 1913, will in future of time be transferred from the control of the Public Works Department.

Clause 23.—This addition is made to enable Local Governments to delegate to Electric Inspectors their powers under section 24 (4) in regard to the issue of orders relating to means of electricity to remedy dangerous arrangements or situations here. These being purely technical matters, Local Governments will probably be ready to leave the decision to the hands of their technical officers.

Clause 24.—The alteration is suggested as it is considered that a consumer should be able to obtain a supply of current even though his property may be situated beyond the limit of 200 yards prescribed by this sub-section, but within the area of supply of the licensee, provided the consumer agrees to the existing conditions contained in this clause. The first addition is consequential on the preceding alteration and the second addition is proposed to limit the period for which supply may be discontinued.

Clause 25.—Clause VII of the Schedule at present regulates procedure for cases not falling within clause VI, but by the amendment of clause VI (1) all applications within the "area of supply" will which will be effective in sub-clause 1 in the Bill. There is an alteration of sub-clause.

Clause 26.—This amendment is proposed for the same objects and reasons as are noted against clause 14.

Clause 27.—These modifications are consequential on the proposed amendment of section 23 of the Act.

Clause 28.—Objection has been taken to the existing clause XI of the Schedule in that Local Governments have powers under section 7 of the Act to purchase or acquire, and it has been strongly represented by the electrical industry that the power conferred by the first proviso of this clause and that conferred by section 7 of the Act should not be exercised by one and the same authority.

Clause 29.—The new clause XI-A is introduced as reasons could not be given whether a consumer, who is not able to obtain current where no energy has been used.

Clause 30.—(a) It has been found impracticable to draw up a map the length of overhead lines which are necessarily in frequent variations and it is anticipated, and clause XVI of the Schedule has been altered.

(b) The sub-clause does away with clause (f) and (j) of clause XVI of the Schedule are impossible for any but small undertakings and no addition need to be made. It is suggested that it would be left to the Local Government to fix the scale, provided that it is one suitable in standard terms.

F. H. ROLLAND,

The following Report of the Select Committee on the Bill further to amend the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, was presented to the Legislative Assembly on the 17th March 1921:—

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

By the undersigned, Members of the Select Committee to which the Bill further to amend the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, was referred, have considered the Bill and have now the honour to submit the said Report, with the Bill as amended by us annexed thereto.

1. We do not propose any alterations in clause 1 of the Bill.

2. We are unanimously of opinion that section 19 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, should provide that all the preceding provisions of the Act, other than section 8, should be applicable for the purpose of determining the period of limitation fixed by any special or local law except in so far as any of those provisions may be expressly excluded by such law. Section 8 should otherwise not be deemed to affect or alter a period of limitation specially fixed by any enactment. We have therefore re-drafted clause 5 of the Bill, and we think that the re-drafting proposed, as far as possible, the work of conflicting decisions by the various High Courts.

3. The Bill was published in the Gazette of India Extraordinary, dated the 21st February 1921.

4. We think that the Bill has not been so stated as to require re-publication, and we recommended that it be passed as now amended.

3. (1) Where the Local Government has reason to believe that, in any country to which migration for the purpose of unskilled work is lawful, persons in any other country are engaged in dangerous or insanitary work, and that emigrants, if allowed to migrate to that country, would be exposed to serious risk of life or health, it may, by notification in the local official Gazette, declare that emigrants to that country for the purpose of unskilled work from any part in the territories administered by it shall come to be lawful pending a reference to the Governor-General in Council.

CHAPTER VIII.

SAVINGS AND TRANSITION.

20. Nothing in this Act shall be deemed to apply to the departure out of British India of any person who is entitled to Indian privileges and a subject of a State in India.

Repeal.

21. The Indian Emigration Act, 1918, is hereby repealed.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

"Emigration," as defined by section 2 (5) of the Indian Emigration Act, 1918 (XVIII of 1918), in, what is commonly known as "indentured emigration," is still lawful under section 2 of the Act in the capacities specified in the first Schedule, except to Natal, in respect of which a notification prohibiting emigration was issued under section 5 of the Act in 1912. An amendment was, however, made by the Government of India in 1917, that indentured emigration would not be taken to be permitted. Effect has likewise been given to this prohibition by some of Rule 14-B of the Defence of India (Prohibition) Rules, 1918, which prohibits the emigration, except by license, of all unskilled labour, "for the purpose of, or with the intention of, labouring for hire." It is therefore necessary to take power, before the expiry of the Defence of India Act, to prevent indentured emigration by some other means. This is the first object of the present Bill.

2. The second object of the Bill is to provide machinery for the control of emigration to the future.

3. The principal provisions of the Bill are as follows:—

(1) "Emigration" is defined as the departure by sea out of British India of any person (a) under an agreement to work for hire, or (b) when assisted as to depart for the purpose or with the intention of working for hire or engaging in agriculture, in any country beyond the limits of India [clause 3 (5)].

(2) "Work" is defined as either skilled or unskilled. Skilled work means the occupations specified in Chapter K1 of the present Act, including as a clerk or other assistant, or any other occupation which may be declared by the Governor General in Council to be skilled work. Unskilled work includes engaging in agriculture [clause 3 (4) (f) and (g)].

(3) Power is taken to appoint—

(a) Protector of Emigrants [clause 2], and committees to advise them [clause 2];

(b) Agents of the Governor General in Council in places outside India [clause 7].

(4) Emigration for the purpose of unskilled work is prohibited except in such countries and on such terms and conditions as the Governor General in Council, by notification in the Gazette of India, may specify. No such notification shall be made unless it has been laid on draft before both Chambers of the Indian Legislature and has been approved by a Resolution of each Chamber [clause 10].

(5) Emigration for the purpose of skilled work is permitted subject to certain restrictions as to the issue of Chapter K1 of the present Act [clause 15 to 19]. But the Governor General in Council is empowered to prohibit the emigration of skilled workers in any specified country, where he has reason to believe that sufficient guarantee exists for such prohibition [clause 21].

(6) Provisions are provided for voluntary emigration as indentured to emigrants [clause 16 to 20]. But no provision shall be enforced without the sanction of the Protector of Emigrants, or, where there is no Protector, of the District Magistrate [clause 22].

(7) The Bill applies to emigration in all countries. Emigration to Ceylon and the Straits Settlements, which is excluded from the present Act, will be subject to the provisions of the Bill. The Bill does not, however, apply to the departure out of British India of persons who are holders of Indian privileges and subjects of a State in India [clause 21].

DRAFT.

The 25th March 1922.

C. A. ISHER.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 21st March 1921:—

No. 14 of 1921.

A Bill further to amend the Transfer of Property Act, 1912.

Whereas it is expedient further to amend the Transfer of Property Act, 1912; it is hereby enacted as follows:—

Section 115 and 116. 1. (1) This Act may be called the Transfer of Property (Amendment) Act, 1921.

(2) It shall apply to all instruments of mortgage and gift executed on and after the first day of July 1921. But nothing herein contained shall affect any vested rights recognised by any final decree of a competent civil court.

Amendment of section 115, Act 17 of 1912. 2. In section 115 of the Transfer of Property Act, 1912 (hereinafter referred to as "the said Act"), the words "and attested by at least two witnesses" and the words "and attested" shall be omitted.

Amendment of section 116, Act 17 of 1912. 3. In section 116 of the said Act, the words "and attested by at least two witnesses" shall be omitted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Sections 115 and 116 of the Transfer of Property Act, 1912, require that Instruments of Mortgage and Gift should be attested by at least two witnesses. But Instruments of sale, Exchange and Lease are not required to be so attested. ( vide sections 24, 116 and 118 of the said Act.) It must be pointed out that it has been held that to render the Instrument valid the witness should have actually seen the mortgage or donor sign or affix his mark. In the case of Registered Instruments, such an attestation requirement is unnecessary and leads to unnecessary trouble. The validity of the Instrument is affected if proof is not available in the form stated above. Oftentimes, witnesses to the deed are bribed to say that they did not actually see the mortgagee sign. The temptation to avoid just liability by taking advantage of this technical plea is great under the law as it stands and in previous instruments which are undatedly given and fully supported by consideration have been known to be got rid of by this plea.

It is proposed by this Amending Bill to place all registered Instruments of transfer law alike on the same footing as regards attestation.

Dated,

The 24th February 1921.
